Business and Academic Partnerships: Apply for Funding (UK)

Up to £40 million of funding has been allocated to support businesses in collaborating with an academic or research organisation and a graduate on a Knowledge Transfer Partnership (KTP). The KTP scheme enables businesses in the UK to innovate and grow by linking them with an academic or research organisation and a graduate.

A KTP enables an academic or research organisation as a partner to a business to recruit a suitable graduate (an Associate) to work at the company for the duration of the KTP. The business is thus able to access new skills and the latest academic thinking to deliver a specific, strategic innovation project. KTPs can last between 12 and 36 months, depending on the project and the needs of the business.

The KTP 3-way partnership will consist of:

- A UK-based business of any size or a not-for-profit organisation
- An academic or research organisation i.e. university, college or research and technology organisation in the UK
- A suitably-qualified graduate with the capability to lead a strategic business project

The KTP can be part-funded by a grant from Innovate UK with the business partner contributing to the salary of the Associate plus the cost of a supervisor who will oversee the scheme. Contributions will depend on the scale and length of the project and the size of the company i.e.

- Small and medium-sized enterprises contribute around £35,000 per year, about one-third of the project costs
- Large businesses contribute around £55,000 per year, or half of the project costs

Applications may be submitted either via a KTP Adviser who will check the feasibility of the idea and find the right partner or, where there is already a partnership with an academic or research organisation, via that organisation's KTP office.

The deadline for applications to this round is the 24th July 2019.

New £1 Million Fund to Diversify People Coaching and Volunteering in Sport (England)

A new £1 million Workforce Diversity Great Ideas Fund has been launched by Sport England to engage women and/or BAME communities in volunteering or coaching opportunities. The aim is to help ensure people working in sport and physical activity as coaches and volunteers are skilled, motivated, valued, equipped for their role, are enjoying a positive experience and are representative of their community. There is no expectation of how long the project should be, or how much it will cost – ideas and project outlines are welcomed.

Sport England are looking for ideas that will deliver sustainable impact – for the people involved, as well as the wider local community, and potentially beyond. This National Lottery funding has been allocated to address the fragmented workforce – partly comprised of coaches and volunteers – that is currently lacking diversity. Anyone with a great idea about how they can engage women and/or BAME communities into quality volunteering and/or coaching opportunities, is welcome to apply.

Applicants will need to have access to the target audiences and be looking to work in partnership with an organisation who can support with the provision of sports volunteering opportunities. Experience of the sport sector is not essential – it is more important that the applicant has a good understanding of the needs of the people in the area that they are trying to connect with and that they, or their partners, are trusted and respected by the people they want to reach.

There are no grant limits or project timescales specified.

The closing date for applications is the 3rd July 2019.
